

Allport Editions: Open Territories

Updated March 2011

Allport Editions is a small, family-run, greeting card publisher located in Portland, Oregon. We have been in business for over 26 years, publishing cards that are artful & witty, ecologically sustainable, and made right here in the US. Our strengths are our Boxed Holiday Card line and Everyday Humor Counter Card lines, though we are very diverse and have over 1000 active SKUs. Please see our website www.allport.com for more information about our products.

We value building long-term relationships with employees, customers, and representatives. Employees work for Allport for an average of 9 years. Our best accounts have purchased from us for nearly 20 years, and our best representatives have worked with us for over 12 years. We currently have four employees who assist 1500 customers and currently work with over 40 representatives across the country.

Below is a list of territories for which we are currently seeking representation. Highlighted territories indicate regions where we already have an established customer base.
